

Special meeting to decide CD fate

By Dave Gosnell
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Whether the city will withdraw from Madison County's Community Development program will be decided Monday at a special 7 p.m. City Council meeting.

The city is considering withdrawing from the program and setting up its own Community Development agency. Some aldermen have said the city could get more money and spend the money in a better manner by starting its own agency.

Madison County Community Development administrators do not want the city to pull out and have said the city has not been treated unfairly in the county's program.

Madison County Board member Vasil Eftimoff, of Granite City, has requested his name be put on the city's special agenda. Eftimoff said he will be urging the council to stay in the county's program.

"I'm speaking for staying in the county," Eftimoff said. "I don't know that Granite City can provide the same things the county does."

Eftimoff said he does not want to see a "double layer" of CD administration, a circumstance he said would occur if the city pulled out.

If the city has not been getting its fair share of the county's CD money, that situation will be corrected under proposals being presented to the city from the county, Eftimoff said.

Eftimoff is a member of the county's Grants Committee, which oversees the Community Development program.

Nellie Hagnauer, County Board chairman and chairman of the county's Grants Committee, said he will not attend the meeting but that Community Development administrators Cheryl Jouett and Joe Parente will be on hand.

The county has offered the city a bigger share of the county's federal CD allotment, under several proposals, but some aldermen are not satisfied. Hagnauer said that the city may not have received all that it was entitled to, but has generally done well with the county's program.

"They may not have gotten as much, but over a period of time, they've gotten their share," Hagnauer said. Several businesses in Granite City have expanded, in part, because of the county's program, he said.

Hagnauer denied that he decides where CD money is spent.

"I don't handle the money up there," Hagnauer said.

He said the decision whether

Group provides role models

Third of a series
GRANITE CITY — Children sometimes need a big brother or sister. And, when one's not around, there's an organization that's helping to provide that service.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Southwestern Illinois provides adult role models and friends to children between the ages of 7 and 14 from one-parent homes.

Once accepted into the program, volunteers are matched for a one-on-one relationship with a child who can benefit from this individualized attention. Volunteers are asked to spend three to five hours a week with the child.

The purpose of the group is to share time with a child. That extra time and attention the volunteer gives — setting an example, listening, giving advice and direction — can help the children as they get ready to become adults, authorities said.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters is one of the agencies aided by the Tri-Cities Area United Way.

Barbara Cempura, executive director of Big Brothers/Big Sisters, said they received a $1,500 grant from the United Way in late 1985 and another $1,500 this year. She said the local agency was the first of the four United Way agencies in Madison County to aid the organization.

The first Big Brothers/Sisters Madison County office opened in September 1986 in Granite City. Cempura said. The office has since moved to Edwardsville, she said.

The first official match in Madison County was between Don Seitzer of Granite City and his "little brother," Charles. There are between 25 and 30 children in the Big Brother/Sisters program in Madison County, Cempura said, compared to about 15 adult volunteers.

"We have an average of children," she said.

The largest demand, she said, is for big brothers, since there are more boys on the waiting list than girls.

Big Brother/Sisters hold occasional informational meetings for prospective volunteers and single parents interested in learning about the organization.

Part four of the series will appear in next Sunday's issue.

School residency rules reviewed

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

VENICE — Stricter residency requirements for students attending Venice public schools may be in order, said Superintendent of Schools Robert Vickers to the Board of Education Sept. 24.

Vickers asked board members' opinions about adopting a new residency policy, adding some tighter requirements to District 3's current policy.

"There is some concern about students who go elsewhere to school for a period of time and then enroll in Venice."

"If a child lives in the district with someone other than a parent, that person must have a legal guardianship statement for the child to enroll as a student here," Vickers said.

Questions concerning a student who attended a neighboring high school, then entered a job training program and now has enrolled in Venice High School were discussed by the board. A parent of the student resides in the district.

Some board members expressed the opinion that Venice is getting "rejects" or troublemakers from other districts.

"If the city limits were correct in this area we wouldn't have this problem," said Board Member George Wade.

He was referring to a portion of the City of Venice which extends north from Brown Street and lies within the Madison School District boundaries.

The south side of the street is in the Venice district and the north side in Madison.

"Students must meet the residency guidelines. Regardless of whether they are troublemakers or not, if they live here, they must go to school here," Wade said.

If there is evidence to show a student does not live in the district, the student does not have to be admitted, Vickers explained.

Getting the evidence can sometimes prove difficult. Sending a school security officer to check a residence does not guarantee he will be given adequate or correct information, Vickers said.

If the school district boundaries were contiguous with the city's boundaries the problem would be minimized, he said.

"We don't have to take someone else's problems. But this (students transferring) has been going on for 50 years and probably will continue to go on when we're gone," the administrator said.

Under present policy, a parent without any written proof of residency, other than a rent receipt, who wishes to enroll a child is required to sign an affidavit attesting to district residency.

Vickers asked the board to

Council nixes salary switch

By Dave Gosnell
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A new city comptroller was hired, but his salary remains unclear.

The City Council agreed with Mayor Von Dee Cruse's request to replace former comptroller Joe Miklovic with Miklovic's assistant, Kim Mactaggart.

But the council balked at Cruse's proposal to hire Mactaggart at Miklovic's $42,600 salary. Mactaggart would have seen a $16,100 increase in his $26,500 salary, not including benefits.

Aldermen agreed that Mactaggart was qualified for the job but did not think Mactaggart, who has been with the city about one year, should receive Miklovic's old salary.

"How do you justify it? Miklovic was here a number of years to earn it," 4th Ward Alderwoman Sharon Perjak said to Cruse.

Other aldermen also questioned the proposal.

Cruse said he thought Mactaggart deserved Miklovic's salary but withdrew the salary request.

The council agreed to have the Finance Committee recommend what Mactaggart should be paid and to have qualifications drawn up for an assistant comptroller. The assistant position has yet to be filled.

Miklovic resigned in early September after being the city's comptroller for about six years.

Fields to announce Sunday in Venice

Man wins award, goes to White House

By Bill Gabby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Recognition of a local man's fight against drug abuse has taken him to the White House.

James Dederer of Granite City received the Pharmacist of the Year award by the Pharmacists Against Drug Abuse Foundation.

Sunday focus

He was nominated by the Illinois State Pharmaceutical Association in recognition of his accomplishments and commitment to the fight against drug abuse.

Dederer said he learned of the award via a telephone call around the first of June. He attended a luncheon in July in Washington, D.C., where he received a check for $2,500 and a $7,500 scholarship, which he donated to his alma mater, the St. Louis College of Pharmacy.

While in Washington, Dederer said, he was invited by U.S. Rep. Mel Price, D-Belleville, to meet members of Congress.

First Lady Nancy Reagan was unable to attend the luncheon.

Dederer said, so she invited him to return to Washington in August where he was presented with the award at the White House.

Dederer expected his visit to the White House to be very formal and business-like, he said, but found it to be much different.

He said he spent about 25 minutes with the First Lady and described her as being "very laid back."

"She was extraordinarily warm," he said.

Dederer said he was unable to meet President Ronald Reagan because he was "talking" with some congressmen concerning the Iran Contra Hearings, which were then concluding. Instead, Dederer was presented with a set of solid-gold cufflinks embossed with the presidential seal, he said.

He also toured the White House, spending time in the Rose Garden, meeting the White House cook and viewing a collection of photographs that Mrs. Reagan had taken, he said.

"It was totally, totally different than what I expected," Dederer said.

Dederer, 42, has been a pharmacist for more than 22 years and is employed at Zike Pharmacy in Rosewood Heights.

He began educating students about drug abuse when he was in college. Dederer, along with some other of his classmates, volunteered to speak to a group of students about good health and the dangers of getting involved in drugs. After making the presentation, Dederer said, he saw the student's reaction and liked what he saw.

"It was a new kind of reward," he said.

Dederer estimates he has reached between 30,000 and 40,000 youths in 20 years and receives no financial compensation for his work.

"Because I work on the weekends and take two days off during the week, I can travel to the schools in my area when they

Registration required for postal work

The federal government's largest employer, the Postal Service, has announced Selective Service registration requirements for employment. Under the new guidelines, a young man must prove he has registered with Selective Service before being eligible for appointment to a position in the Postal Service.

This requirement follows the Thurmond/Montgomery Amendment to the fiscal year 1986 Department of Defense Authorization Act. The amendment prohibits a young man who is required to register from being appointed to a position in an executive agency of the federal government unless he has registered. The intent was to ensure that all men required by law to register do so.

Rep. Gerald Solomon (R-N.Y.), a strong supporter of Selective Service, introduced legislation in July requiring registration as a prerequisite to employment with the Postal Service.

Technically, the Postal Service was not included in the original Thurmond/Montgomery Amendment because it is not an executive agency of the government. Solomon said, "If a young man is going to accept the benefits of this country then he should be ready and willing to accept the responsibilities as well. Registration is one of these responsibilities."

As of mid-August, all young men who are 18 through 25 years of age must show proof of registration before being considered for a position with the Postal Service. Those young men who do not reach 18 until after appointment will be asked to submit proof within 30 days of their birthday.

Men who fail to provide proof of registration will be considered "not available" and will receive no further consideration for employment.

Along with federal employment, Selective Service registration has been linked to federal student aid and job training benefits. Many states also require registration as a prerequisite for state student aid, entrance into a state-supported college or university, and state employment.

All men must register with Selective Service within 30 days of their 18th birthday. Failure to register is a felony punishable by up to five years in prison and/or up to a $250,000 fine.

BURT dance to aid building fund

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The public is invited to attend the annual dance of Bubblemasters Underwater Recovery Team (BURT) and help to support the work of the non-profit organization.

The gala event commemorating the team's 15th year of operation will take place at 7 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 10, at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 4225 Old Alton Road. Dance music will be provided by the "Rollin' Record Show" from 8 p.m. until 1:30 a.m.

Tickets, costing $10 per person, include snacks, soft drinks and beer, and may be obtained by calling 801-2220 or 931-2912, or will be available at the door. Gina Horstmeier and Vance Weiss, dance co-chairmen, said.

Prizes will be awarded throughout the evening. Several years ago the team established a "Building Fund" with the hope that a permanent station for the team's equipment and emergency van could be constructed.

The members say they have worked long and hard and are close to achieving their goal, Weiss and Horstmeier said.

Proceeds from this year's dance added to the building fund may enable the team to reach its fund-raising goal and start construction of a building to house equipment and a central radio dispatch station. Horstmeier said.

BURT got its start in 1972 when a few sport divers from the Bubblemasters Dive Club saw a need in the local community for an experienced group of divers to search for and recover drowning victims, automobiles, stolen property and discarded weapons.

Throughout the past 15 years, the team has answered requests from law enforcement agencies to aid in recoveries in the Mississippi River and area lakes, ponds, rivers and canals. Today, BURT's membership roster boasts 30 qualified divers.

Although the group differs in age, sex, professions and politics, its members are united as a team with a single objective — to be on constant call should an emergency occur and respond quickly when state, county or local law enforcement agencies need an experienced search and recovery unit.

BURT's experiences during the last 15 years, plus the constant retraining and education programs offered the divers, have kept the members abreast of the latest recovery and safety techniques.

The local unit is considered one of the best search and recovery teams in Illinois.

Emphasis always is placed on training experiences and safety procedures, Horstmeier said. Team members work as community servants, with no charge made to communities needing their services, it was stressed.

Team funds have been obtained through private donations, the group's affiliation and membership in the Madison County Firemen's Association and by the individual members working at various public bingo games throughout the area, Weiss said.

A source of pride is the BURT emergency vehicle. The van is fully equipped with dry and wet suits, scuba gear and emergency equipment used in the recovery of drowning victims.

At the present time, the van serves as the warehouse for nearly all of BURT's property.

BURT representatives also help educate the public through programs before Scout and school groups and fire departments. The presentations are geared to water safety and hypothermia (cold-water drowning).

We hope the public will attend the dance to commemorate the 15th anniversary of BURT and help us to realize our goal for a much needed building, the dance co-chairmen said.

Glen Mullen, 2134 State St., reported Sept. 28 that a burglar entered his home and took a video cassette player, a case containing ammunition and a hunting vest.

Pickup drags hitchhiker trying to get duffel bag

A hitchhiker required surgery after being dragged along West Pontoon Road after he tried to grab his duffel bag from a speeding pickup truck at 7:50 p.m. Sept. 26.

B.A. Allison, 48, and his friend, Richard L. Owens, 49, both transients, had accepted a ride near Hartford and later got out at West Pontoon just east of Illinois 3. When Allison went to the rear of the vehicle to get his bag, the truck accelerated.

Allison was dragged down the road before he let go of the truck and struck the pavement. He suffered cuts, punctures and bruises over his entire body. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he underwent surgery.

Video camera stolen

Roy Scott, 2409 Glen Place, said a burglar broke a window at his home sometime Sept. 27 and took a video cassette player, valued at $550; a color video camera, valued at $1,200; and a portable video cassette player, worth $1,000.

Stored items missing

Several items being stored in a garage in the 2100 block of Edison Avenue were removed without his permission, Kenneth Smith of St. Louis reported Sept. 25. Missing were a $550 Commodore computer in a suitcase, a key punch machine, a disk drive and disks, a small crossbow and a radar detector.

Stolen auto reported

Robert Jarman, 2537 Circle Drive, reported his 1979 Chevrolet Camaro was stolen from the K mart parking lot, 3555 Nameoki Road, at 9 p.m. Sept. 25.

Man allegedly points handgun at girl, age 15

Michael L. Dean, 31, of East St. Louis, was charged with aggravated assault, unlawful use of a weapon, disorderly conduct and leaving the scene of an accident after being arrested at 9:50 a.m. Sept. 25 at 19th Street and Delmar Avenue after police received a report of a man downtown with a weapon.

Police allegedly found a blue steel handgun in Dean's car, which appeared to match the auto description given by a 15-year-old girl. She reported that sometime after 7 a.m. that day a man had asked her to go to his car and then displayed a handgun.

The girl ran inside her home, but when she left for school saw the car in an alley behind the 500 block of Kirkpatrick Homes. She then reported the earlier incident.

The car also allegedly matched debris that fell from an automobile that knocked down a trash can and clothes line in the 2100 block of Kirkpatrick Homes.

2 charges against man

Alfred Lee Homan, 34, of Granite City was charged with criminal trespass to property and disorderly conduct when arrested in the Iowa Street parking area of St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 12:20 a.m. Sept. 26.

Homan was throwing rocks from the parking lot across the alley at the back door of 2015 Washington Ave., alleged Brenda Latchford, a resident there.

A patrolman said he saw Homan picking up rocks in the SEMC parking area and said the same man had been warned twice that night to stay away from Latchford's address. Homan was released after posting $154 bail.

Man's 1912 rifle stolen

A 1912 Eddystone military bolt-action rifle, valued at $400, and a box of ammunition, belonging to David Duffin of Kansas City, Mo., was stolen from his auto while the vehicle was parked at Charlie's Restaurant on Nameoki Road Sept. 26.

Local church entered

An inventory of property is being made at the United Pentecostal Church, 2450 Pontoon Road, where a burglar entered through a basement window Sept. 25. Nothing was immediately determined to be missing.

Weapon charge filed

One driver was hurt and another was charged with unlawful use of a weapon in a three-car accident Sept. 26 on Illinois 162, about 100 feet east of the railroad tracks near Maryville Road.

The car of Harvey L. Goad, 26, of 2160 Orville Ave., who was driving west on 162, is said to have struck the rear of an auto operated by Sherrie A. Miller, 35, of 1721 Bremen Ave., who was slowing for traffic ahead. Miller sustained a minor injury.

The impact pushed her car against the rear of a station wagon operated by Charles W. Wilson, 35, of 2415 E. 24th St., who was stopped in traffic due to a train crossing the roadway.

A blue steel revolver in a black leather holster was on the floorboard of Goad's vehicle, police contended; the weapon was loaded with six live rounds of .38 caliber ammunition.

Goad, who said he was a security guard, was charged with unlawful use of a weapon.

A CLEAN SWEEP: Wearing the traditional top hat and tails, Randy Lisson of Granite City cleans a wood stove. Lisson and his wife, Sherrie, recently started a chimney cleaning business called Lucky Sweep.

Chimney cleaner likes his 'dirty' profession

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Randy Lisson has a "dirty" job, but he likes what he does.

Lisson and his wife, Sherrie, recently started a chimney cleaning business called Lucky Sweep. They operate the business out of their home at 7 Nightingale Court and specialize in chimney, fireplace and wood stove cleaning.

Lisson, who works at Air Products as a mechanic, started his part-time business Sept. 1, he said, and has cleaned about six chimneys since.

Lisson became interested in chimney sweeping, he said, because it's a unique profession and nobody else in this area has a similar operation.

Before opening his business, Lisson studied information concerning chimney sweeping, he said. He learned there were thousands of fires in the U.S. last year, causing millions of dollars of damage, that were caused by dirty chimneys.

Lisson said the National Fire Protection Agency recommends that homeowners have their chimneys cleaned once a year.

Though his job can be a dirty one, Lisson is always properly dressed for his work, wearing the traditional top hat and tails. That tradition started many years ago in Europe, he said.

"That's what makes the business unique," he said. "You have a little nostalgia from the old country."

His attire always draws some attention, he said.

"I'm usually greeted with a smile," Lisson said. "I turn a lot of heads of people driving by."

Along with tradition, modern technology is used in cleaning chimneys today, Lisson uses a large vacuum to sweep away some of the soot, he said.

Lisson said he plans to expand his business next year to include some repair work.

The Lissons can be contacted at 931-3734.

Named leasing agent

F.L. Sweeney Corp., including Morris/Sweeney Realty of Granite City, was selected as the exclusive leasing agent for the former Kresge Building just off the square at East Main and High streets in Belleville. It will be totally renovated and renamed the Market Square Building. About 45,000 square feet of office space will be available and the building should be ready for tenants in the fall of 1988.

Some firms charge for free forms

A new tax rule has apparently provided a new angle for companies that charge to provide Social Security forms — forms that can be obtained free from the federal agency and at post offices.

Some firms are charging people for the forms they need to obtain Social Security numbers for their children.

Starting next year, Social Security numbers will be required for children 5 years old and up listed as dependents on federal tax returns.

The attempt by some firms to charge for forms for children is fairly new, said Paul Schmidt, a field representative for the Social Security Administration. "They offer for a fee to do something we do for nothing."

A postcard from a Washington state firm called the Social Welfare Assistance Agency invited the reader to send a $10 "processing fee" to get "necessary forms and information" to obtain children's Social Security numbers.

An official-looking emblem with an eagle appears next to the return address on the front of the card. On the bottom are the words "Important notice."

Also appearing on the front of the card is the disclaimer, "The SWAA is a nonaffiliate of the Social Security Administration."

"As long as they show they are nonaffiliated, there's nothing the post office or we can do," Schmidt said. "All we can do is warn people."

BPW hears about work of crisis center

"There is a great need for a crisis center in this community to care for abused women and children, even more so than most people believe," Judy Horton told members of the Gateway Business and Professional Women at a dinner meeting.

Horton is a volunteer coordinator for Phoenix Crisis Center. She said that in Illinois this year more than 1 million women are expected to be victims of some violent action. Police report that most calls they receive are related to some type of violence.

Phoenix was initiated in 1983 in a small office room provided by the Co-Ordinated Youth Organization. From this small beginning, the dedicated women involved found and furnished a two-bedroom, safe house to shelter women and children seeking a safe place to go when violence forces them to leave their own homes. A 24-hour hotline was also begun and continues to serve these women, Horton said.

This year the crisis center moved to larger quarters, and is being prepared to care for 16 women and children. All furniture and other household items have been donated by community residents. The house will be ready to operate as soon as several more renovations have been completed.

A new and intensive program intended to help build the self-esteem of both adults and children is available, as well as a counseling program and means to contact attorneys and agencies, which can continue to aid abused people, the speaker said. LaVelle Stephens, club president, presided at the business meeting held at the Community Club of the Granite City Army Installation.

Fat Anderson, treasurer, announced 23 members have paid dues for the 1987-88 year. Other members will be contacted.

Secretary Judy Puryear announced a fall district meeting will be held at 1 p.m. Oct. 11 at the Oasis Restaurant in Carrollton, Ill.

Reservations must be made no later than Oct. 5. The President's Council meeting will be conducted Nov. 5 at the Ramada Inn in Alton, she said.

Betty Nugent, chairman for Community Affairs, hosted the meeting and introduced guests Andrea Oliver, a member of a St. Louis County BPW Organization, and Bonnie Campbell of Madison.

Membership Chairman Donna Kimbro conducted an induction ceremony for a new member, Susie Mainbridge, who is employed as a secretary at Centerville Bank in St. Louis.

Plans were also discussed for the forthcoming Business and Professional Women's Week scheduled for Oct. 18 to 24, to be led by Ruth Nicholas, chairman for the event.

Nicholas said members are expected to attend services Oct. 18 at the First Presbyterian Church in Madison with the club president, who is a member there. After services, members will then attend a luncheon at Charlie's Restaurant, On Tuesday that week, they will attend the Madison City Council meeting at 7:30 p.m., and on Wednesday will participate in an orientation program and social evening at 7 p.m. in the home of Kimbro.

Health and rights issues of AIDS laws in Illinois

CHICAGO — Action was taken Sept. 21 on a package of legislation that Gov. James Thompson views as an important step in recognizing and dealing with acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS), one of the most challenging public health issues in the country's history.

"The issue of AIDS has become the most dominant health issue of our time," said Thompson. "The disease has sparked political and philosophical debate all across this nation in an effort to address this vital area in an effective manner."

While it has caused irreparable damage to its victims and their families, the stigma from fear and ignorance has served to cause a more widespread reaction in the psyche of the nation.

"There are no easy answers or shortcuts to the problems associated with AIDS. It is not easy to sort out which of our concerns are legitimate and which of our actions are truly appropriate."

"Until a time when medical science can tell us more precisely the root of this epidemic, we must be firm in our stance to balance the strong desire of protecting the public health and preserving the individual rights of citizens," said Thompson.

"The bill we have attempted to do with this legislation, The General Assembly sent me a package consisting of bills dealing with issues as diverse as premarital testing, contact tracing and mandatory testing."

"Not everyone will be pleased with my actions today, but I believe that the manner in which this package is handled by my actions will provide Illinois with a reasonable public policy to deal with AIDS," he said.

"While the legislative package is an extensive collection of programs, I must, as always, caution everyone that the state's present fiscal condition."

"Funding for these programs must be restricted to existing revenues. Since most of the AIDS programs are not effective until Jan. 1, 1988, some of the bills will not be effective until their first six months of operation will be austere."

"The Fiscal Year 1987, Illinois has spent more than $17 million on the issue of AIDS. Programs that have been funded include the establishment of an AIDS hotline, funding for the drug AZT, alternative testing sites, residential care, and community based organizations."

Thompson took action on a total of 17 AIDS-related bills, including the signing of Senate Bill 651, the Illinois Sexually Transmissible Disease Control Act.

Bill 651 requires physicians and laboratories to report cases of sexually transmitted diseases to the Illinois Department of Public Health (IDPH). The bill also permits a "contact tracing" program that encourages individuals with sexually transmitted diseases to notify those who may have been exposed.

In addition, the legislation authorizes IDPH to direct people suspected of having these diseases to seek treatment.

The bill provides strict confidentiality measures, including exemption of sexually transmissible disease information from the "Freedom of Information Act."

Persons making reports of sexually transmissible diseases in good faith are also protected from civil and criminal liability, while persons who knowingly spread false information are subject to prosecution.

The bill also allows IDPH to isolate individuals to those cases where a court order is obtained. Under current law, IDPH has the authority to isolate, without court authority, individuals who endanger the general public.

This legislation specifies that isolation of AIDS patients must be based on scientific evidence that the public's welfare is significantly in danger.

The bill also allows IDPH to enter state and local correctional facilities for the routine examination of all persons whose blood tests are positive. The measure is effective immediately.

Senate Bill 771: Requires IDPH to set rules for the labeling, upon death, of the body of any person who had or was suspected of having an infectious communicable disease. The bill carries an effective date of Jan. 1, 1988.

Senate Bill 550: Requires schools to include instruction in grades 6-12 on AIDS, in school districts that elect to provide a course in comprehensive sex education and family life. Pupils will not be required to be instructed on AIDS if the parent or guardian objects in writing. The bill takes effect Jan. 1, 1988.

House Bill 1225: Requires schools that elect to provide a course in comprehensive sex education and family life to instruct pupils on the importance of abstinence until marriage. The measure is effective Jan. 1, 1988.

It was sponsored in the House by Rep. Richard J. Kelly Jr. of Oak Lawn and Ron Stephens of Caseyville and in the Senate by Sen. Richard J. Kelly Jr. of Oak Lawn and George "Ray" Henderson of Downers Grove, and Adeline Jay Geo-Karis of Zion.

control and prevention efforts for intravenous drug users.

"I believe this will enable us to provide a great deal of protection to individuals who are tested for AIDS," said Thompson. "Confidentiality of results is an ethical responsibility that the state must not disregard."

Both Senate and House Bill 100 take effect immediately.

In other action, Thompson signed the following bills from the AIDS package:

Senate Bill 972: Requires licensed hospitals to allow blood recipients, with certain conditions, to designate a donor of their choice. The bill carries a residential setting provision. It is effective immediately.

Senate Bill 995: Expands the Quilty Incentive Program (QUIP) to include AIDS victims. QUIP provides long-term care facilities with financial incentives for care which surpasses requirements for these facilities.

The bill allows the Illinois Department of Public Aid to make payments to nursing homes with programs for AIDS patients, allowing more AIDS patients the ability to live in a residential setting. It carries an effective date of Jan. 1, 1988.

House Bill 1268: Protects blood supplies by requiring the testing of all donated blood for the presence of the AIDS virus. The bill also requires confidential notification of all persons whose blood tests are positive. The measure is effective immediately.

Senate Bill 771: Requires IDPH to set rules for the labeling, upon death, of the body of any person who had or was suspected of having an infectious communicable disease. The bill carries an effective date of Jan. 1, 1988.

Senate Bill 550: Requires schools to include instruction in grades 6-12 on AIDS, in school districts that elect to provide a course in comprehensive sex education and family life. Pupils will not be required to be instructed on AIDS if the parent or guardian objects in writing. The bill takes effect Jan. 1, 1988.

House Bill 1225: Requires schools that elect to provide a course in comprehensive sex education and family life to instruct pupils on the importance of abstinence until marriage. The measure is effective Jan. 1, 1988.

Constitution program given at St. Mary-St. Mark School

The seventh and eighth grade students of St. Mary-St. Mark School, Madison and Venice, presented a "We Celebrate the Constitution" program on Sept. 17.

The program was written and directed by teacher Peggy Scharf. The musical part of the program was directed by Janet Hogan.

The boys portrayed some of the delegates who were present at the Constitutional convention, held in Philadelphia in 1787. The actors provided information about the Constitution, including a short history of how it came to be and information detailing the main parts of the document.

The girls portrayed Betsy Ross and her friends working on the American flag. While doing so, they explained the flag's origin and the proper protocol in using the flag.

During a break in the program, the audience was given a practice Constitution test to see what had been learned. Audience members self-corrected their tests following the break as Scharf gave the answers.

The musical selections performed were "America the Beautiful," "Fifty Nifty," "Yankee Doodle," and the National Anthem. A dance was performed to the song "Freedom" from "Shenandoah."

Granite girls among national champions

The Southern Illinois University at Carbondale debate squad, national champion for the past two years, has five returning veterans.

Bibi L. Christoff, 85 Briarview Lane, is among those returning. Debate coach Jeffrey T. Bile, director of forensics in the SIUC speech communication department, said the team has a "terrific" chance of repeating its success of 1985-86 and 1986-87.

SIUC competes in events sponsored by the Cross Examination Debate Association.

The team began its quest for a third national title in a tournament Sept. 25-26 at Johnson Community College in Overland, Kan. The following weekend, the squad was set to compete in an event at Vanderbilt University.

Bile said that an average of 32 teams from about 20 schools take part in 20 tournaments each year. At each event, the teams participate in six to eight preliminary debates to try to qualify for the elimination bracket, usually the top 16 teams.

The better a team does in the elimination rounds, the more points it earns for its school. The school with the most points at the end of the year wins the national championship.

A general topic is chosen for the year by the member schools in the CEDA. This year, debate will argue the pros and cons of covert government action in Central America.

The SIUC debate team has been ranked in the top five nationally for the past five years by the CEDA. It has been ranked No. 1 of more than 300 colleges and universities in CEDA over the past two years.

Other members of the debate squad include Jenny Kuller, 2221 Shirline Drive.

Municipal power plants seen as a way to cut power bills

Municipal ownership of utility companies is one way to fight high utility bills, an Illinois Public Action Council (IPAC) official said Sept. 12.

"Cities could use the right of eminent domain to take over utility companies," said Tim Early.

"Cities could operate the utilities at much less cost," he said at a 21st District Citizens Utility Board meeting in Wood River.

Terry Kohler, manager of Illinois Power Company's Wood River office, was in the audience but did not comment at the meeting. However, he told a reporter afterward:

"Municipalities are not equipped to take over the operation of utilities. For instance, our distribution system does not serve just one city."

"It would be costly for a city to maintain the system, do repairs and handle emergencies. Utility costs or taxes would go up, and quality of service would go down."

Early said at the meeting: "If city officials are not interested, then citizens should fight for election (rather than appointment) of commissioners of the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC)."

CUB officials urged a strong petition drive to fight utility rate increases. Ray Hollmann, 21st District director of CUB, played "Utility Bill Blues" on his banjo to the audience of 42, of whom 36 were senior citizens.

Hollmann and others distributed bumper stickers, capel buttons and literature opposing rate increases, especially IP's.

Early and ICC commissioners should force IP to lower its rates, asserting that the commissioners are protecting the profits of IP, Commonwealth Edison and other utilities.

"The election of ICC commissioners would give citizens more of a voice on how utilities should be operated," Early said.

James Seidita, research director of CUB, said IP has had two rate increases in the past 12 months.

"The increases caused extremely high summer electric rates," he said. "On a percentage basis, residents pay more for electricity than do industries."

IP should pay for Clinton (nuclear plant) through its profits, not pass on the cost to utility customers," Seidita said.

Lamont E. Tarbox, legislative director for CUB, said "One of our problems is getting politicians involved. We have heard from Reps. (Jim) McPhee and (Sam) Wolf and Sen. Sam Vadalabene. On a statewide basis, General Assembly members are not too responsive."

"We need to build a coalition to fight IP and others. We need to get thousands of petitions to ICC members, the governor and the General Assembly."

"All need to know we citizens do not want to pay for the mistakes of the utility companies."

Asked for comments about the meeting, Kohler said: "I heard folk songs and a fund-raising effort for CUB."

"Also, other than one other utility IP has the lowest rates in the state, based on 12 months."

"The IPAC handed out a leaflet which shows our rate the second highest in the state, but IPAC officials used our summer rates only. They did not include the winter rates."

State wants $8 million for PCB dumping near Mounds

The Illinois attorney general's office says it will seek costs and punitive damages totaling up to $8 million from three defendants in connection with the dumping of PCB-contaminated materials at two sites west of Collinsville.

William "Chuck" Evers, an attorney representing one of the defendants, termed the lawsuit by Attorney General Neil Hartigan's office political because the defendants have little money.

Hartigan's staff filed suit in early September against William Lasich, who does business as Central States Battery Recyclers, and Barbara Lasich and Ola Imry.

The state obtained a preliminary injunction against William Lasich to prevent further dumping of toxic substances at the two sites, on Collinsville Road and West Point Street, but it withdrew requests for injunctions against the two women.

William Lasich, who was not represented by an attorney, agreed to the injunction, which was issued by Madison County Chief Circuit Judge F. J. O'Neill.

According to the suit, Barbara Lasich owned property at 6349 Collinsville Road until April, when she conveyed it to William Lasich. William Lasich conveyed it to Imry in June.

Barbara Lasich, who is divorced from William Lasich, owns part of the West Point tract. William Lasich formerly operated his firm at 6349 Collinsville Road.

In July 1986, barrels were found on the property. They contained high concentrations of PCBs (polychlorinated biphenyls), a cancer-causing substance. Lasich recycled transformers and batteries which contained PCBs.

The site of Lasich's home on West Point Street was also found to have been contaminated. The two sites were cleaned up earlier this year with state money.

The cost of the cleanup is at $1.9 million, "and not all of the bills are in," said Pat Morris, an attorney with Hartigan's office who was present for the court hearing.

Law allows the state to collect from the owner of the property or operators of the offending business the cost of the cleanup and punitive damages of up to three times the cleanup cost.

Morris said there are also two counts against the defendants for violating state law by dumping the contaminants and for polluting groundwater. The potential penalties for each count are $10,000 plus $1,000 a day for each day the violation occurred.

Evers said it was ridiculous for the state to claim it is trying to collect that much money from his client and the other two defendants.

"We're only doing what the statute permits us to do," Morris said. "We're going to have to see what happens."

She agreed the defendants did not appear to have much money. Morris said the injunction was sought because, she alleged, William Lasich recontaminated the West Point property after the cleanup had been concluded.

Morris said some of the PCB contaminated property is in the nearby Cahokia Mounds Historic Site.

Thompson blocks Solidarity merger

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. Jim Thompson vetoed legislation permitting the Solidarity Party to merge with the Democratic Party but proposed changes to assure Democrats keep "leading party" status.

If upheld by the legislature, the governor's Sept. 25 actions would assure candidates could run on the Solidarity ticket in the next year's elections. But, it would also prevent the possibility that Democrats could not have guaranteed representation on the state Board of Elections, county reapportionment committees and assigned election judges.

The state Democratic chairman, Sen. Vince Demuzio, D-Carlinville, said the governor's action was "better than nothing."

He had urged Thompson to earlier approve provisions for Solidarity created gubernatorial candidate Adlai Stevenson last year, to merge with the Democrats.

Stevenson ran on the new party ticket rather than on the ballot with a follower of extremist Lyndon LaRouche.

Thompson proposed the Democrats be assured continued leading party status, along with Republicans, rather than Solidarity, by averaging the results of the three most recent gubernatorial elections instead of just the last one.

Thompson noted that if Solidarity Party candidates fail to get 8 percent of the vote in the next general election, it will lose established political party status, anyway.

Some politicians fear Solidarity candidates could become spoilers in close or swing legislative and congressional districts next year and had urged the merger provisions.

Edward Vrdolyak, a recently declared Republican, ran on the Solidarity Party label for mayor of Chicago last year.

Suggish Warriors stunned by East on late goal

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

BELLEVILLE — When Gene Baker and his coaching staff went to shake the hand of Belleville East coach Phil Aleman on Thursday, it probably wasn't just to congratulate him on a win.

Baker probably thanked Aleman and the Lancers for serving the Warriors a wakeup call — a shocking 2-1 defeat for Granite City on Todd Grimmig's goal with seven seconds left in regulation play. Although the Warriors came close to winning or at least gaining a tie, it was a richly-deserved loss in Baker's opinion.

"You could see it coming the whole game," he said. "It was a very lethargic, apathetic performance by almost everyone. We got a disappointing effort from some players and deserved to lose."

The loss ended a nine-game winning streak for the Warriors and lowered their record to 10-2, 6-1 in the Southwestern Conference. They clinched the SWC crown with a 2-1 win over Collinsville on Tuesday.

"After winning the title, many people will read it as a letdown on our part," Baker said. "There was a lot of indecision today and we can only blame ourselves."

The Lancers are now 6-4-1, 3-2-1 in the conference. They trailed 1-0 until Grimmig scored with 11:14 to play. He picked up a loose ball about 20 yards out and drilled it under the crossbar into the top left corner behind Randy Chapman. It was East's first shot of the game and they only got one more. But that was the killer.

Grimmig went for the ball along with two Warrior defenders and beat them to it as the clock wound down. Chapman came out to cut down the angle but Grimmig slid by him.

"You certainly can't blame Randy on either of the goals," Baker said. "It was just a lack of maturity on our part that we couldn't accept this win."

The Warriors had beaten the Lancers 6-0 at home earlier this year, and we took it easy on them," according to Baker.

"But we had warned them about Belleville East," he said. "They have been playing much better and I don't think there was overconfidence. We're not doing the little things and the players don't want to hear about the little things after they have had some big wins."

One got the idea it might not be a Warrior day when they charged out in their new red and black horizontally-striped jerseys and blew three good chances to score in the first quarter. Herb Heaton was stopped by Lancer keeper Mike Girard after five minutes.

Then Scott Stone broke in and hit the post. Heaton got the rebound and was robbed by Girard. The rebound went back to Heaton and he drilled it wide. Later, Dan Wilson made a nice through pass to Stone, but Girard came out to knock the shot away.

"Danny Wilson was really working out there today," Baker said. "He and (Jeff) Grote were our best. We had many others who were very disappointing."

The Warriors didn't break the ice until the 50:12 mark of the third period. A play they have tried many times this year finally paid off. With a free kick from the left corner, Mike Lane moved up from his right wing back position to take the lob pass. Instead of heading it like he has been, he volleyed it and only a hand save by Brian Thompson saved the goal.

Unfortunately for the Lancers, Thompson wasn't playing goal at the time, so the hand ball gave Kirk Mills a penalty kick and he converted — but only after a five-minute delay while the Lancers changed goalies. Brian White came in but was beaten.

"I'm tired of these delays on penalty kicks," Baker said. "They do it to create some tension for the shooter."

Both coaches were given yellow cards for keeping their teams in a huddle too long at the start of the fourth quarter. Whatever Aleman told his players worked, however.

It was a day where, we thought something might happen," Baker said. "We can't blame the field at all. Beautiful. We had the long bus ride and it was a little breezy out here."

Baker then made a promise — or a warning to the players.

"We will need to play a lot better," he said. "And we will."

NOTES: Granite City outshot East 17-2 and outplayed them 19-16. They had two corner kicks to none for the Lancers. The Warriors face Parkway North in their first game of the Tournament of Champions on Monday at 8:30 p.m. — Granite City will face Chaminade on Wednesday and McCluer North on Friday. Those games will also be at 8:30. Action starts at 3:10 p.m. each day. One of the 3-10 games each day will be played at the freshman field east of the main field.

DAN WILSON of the Warriors controls the ball as the Lancers' Jon Haupt gives chase during Thursday's game at Belleville East.

Williams' TD on fumble recovery revives Trojans

It ain't over 'til the fat lady sings.

By Gary King
Correspondent

DUPO — Ron Hunsaker had just given Duplo a first down on the Tiger 49 with just over two minutes remaining in the game. The Tigers were nursing a four-point lead and Madison was about to drop to 3-2 on the season.

In short, the fat lady was well through the first verse.

The Tigers' game plan for the last two minutes was simple: Kill time and kill Madison's two-game winning streak.

And then every coach's nightmare stepped right into Gary Mauser's line of vision.

Tiger quarterback Ervin Dugan dropped back to pass. Trojan nose guard Steve Sanders did his best imitation of an Easton baseball bat on the unsuspecting signal-caller, hitting him square in his blindside, and the ball rolled across open turf.

Anybody could've recovered the pigskin gone awry, but there is such a thing as poetic justice. Some things are just meant to be, and some things are just meant to be for some people.

Madison linebacker Quincy Williams was that person.

Williams had fought, scratched, bitten and torn to keep his school in the game all evening. And when he fell in the end zone after returning Dugan's fumble 42 yards for the touchdown that proved the difference in a 22-20 Trojan win, poetic justice had been served in the biggest way.

After the game, Williams stood outside the Madison bus, half basking in the glory of beating the after-effects of the two broken fingers he had suffered in the third quarter.

"Steve Sanders tied him up, and then the ball came loose," Williams said as if describing a daydream. "I was just so happy to see the ball come loose, and then I just ran it on in."

Seeing Williams walk into the end zone was the second-most beautiful miracle Trojan coach Don Smith had ever seen.

"That was the prettiest sight I've seen in a long, long time," Smith said. "The only thing prettier than that was seeing my little boy born two weeks ago."

The only emotion stronger than the Trojans' elation was the knot in Mauser's stomach.

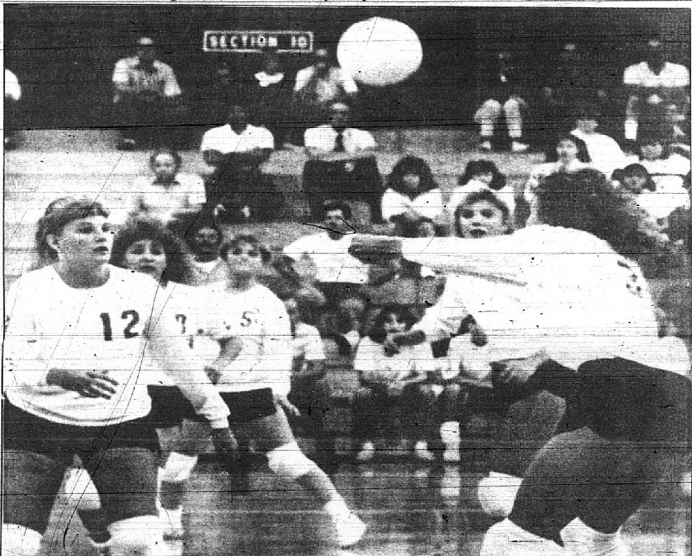

Mauser had watched his squad stack up 157 total yards to Madison's 194. He had watched his squad jump up to a 14-0 lead on a pair of second-quarter touchdowns run by Hunsaker and then go up 20-0 on a third-quarter dash by Hunsaker, who finished the night with 74 yards on 29 carries.

But when the dust had cleared, Mauser was still looking for the license plate number of the freight train that had derailed his team's apparent win.

"We played extremely well tonight," Mauser said. "We outplayed them, we outlasted them, we outworked them. We were totally prepared. We should've won, but it just wasn't meant to be."

"This is one of the toughest losses I've ever had. I don't mind getting beat. But I hate just giving away wins like this."

Actually, though, it wasn't so much a matter of Duplo giving away a win as it was Madison

Golfers settle for 4th at SWC meet

Much like their classmates on the soccer team, the Warrior golfers suffered quite a letdown on Thursday after a big day on Tuesday.

Granite City ended Edwardsville's five-year unbeaten streak in dual meets by two strokes on Tuesday, but the Southwestern Conference two days later served as a cold slap in the face for Russ Chappell's team.

A 325 score left the Warriors with a disappointing fourth-place finish in the conference meet held at Arlington. Belleville West, the team expected to fight Granite City for the crown, took it easily with a 307. That beat a 316 by 12 strokes over Collinsville one stroke behind the Redbirds at 320.

The Warriors could finish ahead of only two teams — Triana (340) and East St. Louis (439).

"I don't know what happened," said Chappell. "The team as a whole just showed very little competitive spirit all day. There was no reason we couldn't have finished at least second."

Mike Wilkinson and Derek Triana each shot a 75, which was good only for a tie for fifth place. The Maroons answered with a 70 from Boomer Leopold and a 71 from Kevin Goolby to pace their victory. Chad Randall of Alton was third at 72 and Mike Chaney of Collinsville was fourth at 75.

The other Warrior scorers were Mike Edwards (84) and Scott Harrison (89).

"It wasn't a very good day all around," Chappell said. "We had to be one of the favorites going into the regional this week, but now I would say things are a little doubtful."

Russ Chappell

"I would say Belleville West along with Edwardsville are the best teams in the area right now."

The Warriors were at the Mascoutah Invitational last Saturday and have one more tri-meet with Mascoutah and Civic Memorial before the Southwestern Regional at Belk Park in Wood River on Thursday.

NOTES: Triana and Wilkinson are 325. Chad Lange is also still in the top 20. The Warriors are still second in the area to Edwardsville at 325 average. The complete state are listed below.

Johnson, Flyers roll over Warriors

If we can avoid the big play, we could do all right.

By Dave Whaley

Executive sports editor

EAST ST. LOUIS — Those words are probably going through Ron Yates' mind. He said it last week as the Warriors prepared to face the East St. Louis Flyers.

Making the Flyers drive the ball methodically down the field could make them vulnerable, but East Side had three touchdowns of 64 yards or more on Friday as they rolled to a 42-0 Southwestern Conference win over Granite City.

Yates also wanted his Warriors to key on Flyer tailback Marvin Lampkin, the fourth leading rusher in the state. They did a decent job on Lampkin, holding him to 63 yards on 12 carries, but Flyer split end Alvin Johnson ran wild. He broke off touchdowns runs of 64 and 68 yards on reverses in the first half to single-handedly give the Flyers a 14-0 lead.

"They came in wanting to key on Lampkin," said Flyer coach Bob Shannon, who saw his team go to 5-0, 2-0 in the conference. "But when teams key on one of our players, we have some other weapons that can hurt them."

That's an understatement from the class coach of the state's top-rated Class 6A team. Johnson did some hurting. He was the game's leading rusher although he carried the ball only three times. Total yardage on those three jaunts: 169 yards. He had a 37-yard run just before halftime that was almost a touchdown.

"They beat us with the big plays," said Yates. "That's all there is to it. There isn't much you can say after a game like this."

But it wasn't a complete loss for the Warriors, who fell to 2-3, 1-2 in the SWC. They did move the ball fairly well on the ground at times. Jeff Kohler, filling in for the still-injured Len Whiteside, had an excellent game on the ground. Running against one of the more physical defenses around, Kohler had 66 yards on 19 carries.

"I think we had first downs on 30 percent of our possessions," Yates said. "I can't remember too many times when we started a series and didn't get at least one first down."

The Flyers had 10 first downs to seven for the Warriors. Granite City had two first downs on the game's first series before stalling at their own 40. Then after snapping the Flyers, Brian Dix blocked a punt to set things up at the East Side 43, but the Warriors failed to move.

The Flyers then went 85 yards in four plays, with Johnson coming from his split end spot on the right and going down the left side for the score with 29 seconds left in the first quarter. Steven Bush kicked the first of his six extra points. They got it back and went 77 yards in two plays, with Johnson ripping off a carbon copy reverse for 68 yards with 7:21 left in the second quarter.

"We just weren't penetrating, and making the play on that side," Yates said.

Three more

JIM CAMPBELL of Granite City continued to rack up swimming medals in Senior Olympic competition when he collected three more in Springfield last weekend. Campbell, 69, took a gold medal in the 100-yard freestyle, a silver in the 200-yard freestyle and a bronze in the 500-yard freestyle. That makes 47 medals Campbell has won in the past several years, including 35 golds. Gus and Joyce Lignoul of Granite City also did well. Joyce, 55, took silver medals in the basketball free throw, badminton and standing broad jump. She also got a bronze in the shot put. Gus, 59, took a gold medal in table tennis and bronze medals in badminton and the shot put.

•Flyers

"Teams usually play us heavy to the formation side," Shannon said. "That's a play we usually keep until we need it. It's a big yardage play and Alvin made it work with nice blocking."

The Warriors kept possession after a roughing the kicker call, but quarterback Joe Wallace fumbled and Dana Howard recovered and ran to the Warrior 1. A clipping call brought the ball back to the 49, but it took only four plays for the Flyers to cash in.

Quarterback Vernon Powell (4 for 9, 76 yards) hit Kenny Robinson for 26 and Lampkin ran for three before Powell kept on a bootleg around-left end for a 20-yard score with 1:53 left before halftime.

"We like to do things with Powell running, but he has been injured," Shannon said. "We have some pretty good balance."

Indeed they do as seven different people carried the ball for 353 yards on the ground. The Warriors totaled only 86 yards on the ground while Wallace was 1 for 3 for seven yards.

The Flyers failed to score before halftime when Kenny Robinson dropped a sure touchdown and Johnson was tackled at the 15 after his 37-yard gain. But Cecil Hawkins quickly made up for it by running the second-half kickoff back 95 yards to make it 28-0.

All that was left was for Lampkin to pick up touchdown runs of 12 yards (with 6:47 left in the third quarter) and one yard (with 2:47 left in the game).

It was a tough game physically and tri-captain Steve Stockman left early with what could be a cracked bone in his left leg. "We were still playing hard at the end," Yates said. "But they can make you look so bad with their speed. Nobody around here will beat them."

Shannon said revenge was no factor because the Flyers avenged their loss at Granite City with the win in the playoffs in 1986.

"They had a better club than we did when we played the first time last year and deserved to win," he said. "Granite City has a good physical team. We had to fight for some of the things we got. They're going to do well. We're just looking to get better each week. Our defense played the way we wanted it to."

NOTES: Whiteside will have his injured shoulder looked at on Monday. He hurt it originally in the Normandy game and aggravated it in practice before the Collinsville game. The Warriors will regroup and get ready for Belleville. Allright to come into Granite City for a 7:30 p.m. game on Friday.

•Trojans

refusing to take a loss. Case in point. After Hunsaker's second touchdown, Madison appeared to be in troubled waters with windless sails. But when they took possession with 2:25 left in the first half, a host of captains suddenly emerged.

Williams put Madison into scoring position with a 44-yard pass to Ian Smith. Williams commanded the Trojans to the Dupo 5 with three straight runs. Three plays later, with all of three seconds left on the clock, Williams put Madison on the scoreboard with a one-yard touchdown drive.

"That was a big drive for us," Williams said. "If we didn't score there, we might not have been able to come back. But we took it to them and then we knew we could do it."

And on their second possession of the second half, they did it again, with Ricky Ball and Craig Ingram too-ing up much too en route to an 80-yard touchdown drive, bringing Madison to within four, 20-16. Ball, who finished the night with 47 yards on 12 carries, capped the drive with a five-yard TD run.

But in the end, the night belonged to Williams, who rushed for 41 yards on nine carries, most of which were of the scrambling-out-of-the-pocket variety.

"This was a big win for us," Williams said. "I think we can roll now."

Adamitis, DeRousse step right in at WSU

Todd Adamitis and Dave DeRousse are making immediate contributions to the success of the Wright State soccer team. The two Granite City High School graduates are starting wing backs for the Raiders, who are 5-2-1.

Adamitis was honored as a National Association High School All-American selection his senior year. He was also selected to both the Chicago Tribune All-Illinois team and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch all-area team. He led the Warriors in scoring last year with nine goals and seven assists. Adamitis has started all the Raiders' games this year.

Todd is the first All-American recruit to come to Wright State," head coach Greg Andrus said. "He is able to back up his credentials and is a very intelligent and aggressive defender. We expect Todd to become a defensive fixture for the next four years."

DeRousse was named to the All-Illinois team as a senior. He was also named to the all-Southwestern Conference team with Adamitis and was an all-Tournament of Champions selection. DeRousse has also started every game for the Raiders.

Todd Adamitis

Dave DeRousse

"Dave is very gifted physically as an athlete," Andrus said. "He is our best defender and will draw the opposition's best attacker. He is a hard-nosed, top-notch defender."

The Raiders took the Metropolitan Life Soccer Bowl at home last weekend. They defeated Miami (O.) 4-2 on Saturday, then came back to defeat Notre Dame 4-3 on penalty kicks on Sunday. Gene Baker, son of the Warrior soccer coach, scored the winning penalty kick.

Adamitis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Adamitis of Granite City. DeRousse is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Erv DeRousse of Granite City.
